Deputy City Engineer Stephanie Kellar: gave staff presentation.

Planning Commissioners discussions included: Thanked staff for reaching out to the neighboring cities; different levels and Active Transportation Plan; timeline to implement the newer levels; reaction to some of the changes; locking the city in on spending money on bike lanes; Class 4 or Class 1 within the city.

Staff response: The Active Transportation Plan is new, and this is the first time we are bringing a document for approval to City Council. It will most likely be 10 to 20 years. The changes depend on what we can currently do on a street or make improvements to a street. This will occur when new development comes to the City, using CIP funds or grant funds. We get a lot of feedback pertaining to the new signals. It's been a process to get the streets up and running. We haven't received much feedback on the bike facilities. We are developing a plan for the City to construct the bike facilities. There is no mandate, and it will be considered case by case by CIP prioritization process or a grant application process. There are several Class 1s throughout the City and more coming from the upcoming development projects.

OPEN PUBLIC COMMENTS

Jimmy Arevalo with Western States Regional Council of Carpenters: Expressed that he will be impacted by the project and that the city should hire local workforce employees to build this project and reduce CEQA impacts.

Planning Commissioners discussions included: Provisions exist to utilize local labor for projects such as this; ADA accessible units; consideration working with local contractors and carpenters for this project; opinions on the use of this area from noise; fencing; site development consistent with its neighbors; biological requirements; environmental permits; number of units; looking forward to seeing the project manage the biological protection.

Staff response: Our resolutions contain a condition. It's not a requirement to hire local labor, but developers are to consider local labor to help stimulate the City's economy.

Applicant response: About 57% of the units have ground floor accessible dwellings, and ADA path of travel. It's premature to have the construction labor discussions, but we will use local labor that is feasible to the project. We put in a disclosure document to people who purchase these units that these uses exist and will have associated noises. Window treatments and other treatments will be used in the units for noise reduction. Fencing on the Linda Vista side will be away from the street. There will also be fencing around the open space to protect the biological resources. The environmental permits occur after the CEQA documents are approved. We worked diligently to get where we are, and if we were not approved for permits, we would have to start over again. We started out with a 449-unit plan but realized it would be difficult to obtain a permit from the Federal wildlife. We then decided to reduce the development to 228-units and help preserve the biological resources.

Gil Miltenberger with Integral Communities (part of applicant team): From an industrial standpoint there was some interest, but after reviewing the property and the size of what can be developed due to the biological resources, it did not make any economic sense. Building residential makes sense due to the nearby plaza, park, and school.

Thomas Liddicoat for Environmental Planning with Helix Environmental (part of applicant team):
The State and Federal Wildlife Agencies are producing the requirements. A Multiple Habitation Plan was also adopted by the County.

Action:

COMMISSIONER SAULSBERRY MOVED TO RECOMMEND APPROVAL TO CITY COUNCIL RESOLUTION PC24-5105 FOR EIR24-002, RESOLUTION PC24-5107 FOR GPA21-0002, RESOLUTION PC24-5108 FOR R21-0002, RESOLUTION PC24-5106 FOR SP22-0001, RESOLUTION PC24-5109 FOR MFSDP24-0001, RESOLUTION PC24-5110 FOR TSM24-0001 AND THE ERRATA FOR CHANGES MADE TO THE STAFF REPORT ON PAGES 3 & 5 AND RESOLUTION PC24-5109/C.31; AND SECONDED BY COMMISSIONER BARNETT.
